

Defense

Medical

Industrial

25
Additional Singer's projects

Innovative medical devices development & manufacturing

Singer Instruments & Control plays a leading role in dozens of medical device development & manufacturing projects for various clients, ranging from small start-up companies, to industry giants seeking turn-key solutions.

Singer had a major part in the development, design and manufacturing of products for companies such as Given Imaging, Medingo, Biosense-Webster, Mediguide (St. Jude Medical), Slender Medical and many more.

Your Vision Our Solutions

Your Vision Our Solutions

Company Overview

Singer Instruments & Control is a subcontractor offering services for development, design and manufacturing of all types of small complex electro-mechanical, Electro-magnetic and micro-motion systems.

Singer is focusing on 3 markets:

Medical devices, security and defense and industrial instrumentation.

In addition, Singer is a supplier of its own brand of instruments and measuring devices, for all applications.

Capabilities and Advantages

- 35 years of service to industry giants and start-ups alike
- Complex miniaturized systems
- In house prototyping and manufacturing, on-site ISO class 7 clean room
- Experienced with medical grade sealing and exotic materials, including NiTiNol design
- In depth understanding of physiological principles and medical needs
- In-vitro, in-situ, in-vivo and clinical testing support

ISO 9001 and ISO 13485 certified

Electronic pills

Catheters
& transducers

Implants
& surgical tools

Electro-mechanical medical devices